

LudoShake is a lightweight interlocking terra cotta roof tile featuring the texture and varied thickness of hand split wood that can be installed in straight rows or staggered for a more rustic look. LudoShake Premier is offered in three different tile sizes—creating random widths for a more authentic shake look. LudoShake will never fade, rot or curl. And unlike wood, rubber or plastic shakes, LudoShake tiles are Class A fire resistant, easy to install, maintenance-free and have fewer pieces per square than most alternatives.
